

Building Collectively

KDW Cares, Inc. is a non-profit extension of KDW Catering, a full-service catering company, and meal plan delivery service with a core focus on providing clean eating to the local community. KDW Cares was established as a need to extend the brand's purpose beyond catering.

As we grow the organization, we will build strength in our communities by investing care in one individual at a time.

About the Program

Words Matter is a program designed to enhance literacy beyond the standardized general curriculum. The program exposes students, from the middle to high school age range, to various genres of literature while exploring their own interpretation of what they are reading. Words Matter promotes multi-cultural diversity, self and community awareness, and encouragement of learners to think critically while making real world connections.

Words Matter aims to enrich the minds of all learners and increase their comprehension level. Our vision is to ensure that all learners from the Baltimore metropolitan area, regardless of background, can be transparent through the expressions of their authentic feelings. The connection between the text covered and the lives of the students is evident through the interpretation of the literature covered. The sessions for Words Matter are once per month on a chosen Saturday and run from 12 pm – 3 pm.

Words Matter inaugural members enjoying a viewing of “A Raisin in the Sun” after gaining a greater appreciation for the classic novel through their discussions.
